Killearn has had to deal with developers encroaching on our quality of life for too long.

Killearn's Uncertain Future

Construction from the Welaunee land deal and the so-called "Northeast Gateway" will bring thousands of cars through Killearn.

Unlike his opponent, Adner knew to listen to our neighbors -- Killearn residents who were most impacted by Welaunee and the $80 million dollar developer giveaway, the so-called "Northeast Gateway" project, which will dump thousands of cars into Killearn.

We need to secure Killearn, to protect our children, who have the right to play in the streets and ride bikes safely. Adner knew to listen to our neighbors, not the developers dumping thousands of dollars into his opponents campaign.

Now is the time to band together to fight for public investment for Killearn.

Instead of spending millions of dollars to subsidize wealthy developer's land deals like Premier Fine Homes, and taking thousands of dollars in political campaign contributions like Adner's opponent did, Killearn residents need city leaders to invest the bare minimum in traffic calming, sidewalks, and safety and security features that will protect Killearn's property value and safety for future generations.

Adner supports the call which was heard far and wide for a Northeast Park for our kids.

Adner's priorities for Killearn

- Listening to our neighbors, not developers who write campaign checks.
- Telling our neighbors about developers plans for construction BEFORE it's too late to change.
- Creating a Northeast community center and park.
- Stopping developer giveaways with our tax dollars.
